

新学術領域『共創言語進化』主催

京都言語進化学会議

2017年11月11日・12日

京都大学 吉田南キャンパス 人間・環境学研究科棟 地下大講義室

11月11日(土) 13:30 開始

Koji Fujita (Kyoto U., theoretical linguistics)

“Evolinguistics: What is it, who does it, and how will it evolve?”

Rie Asano (U. of Cologne, biomusicology)

“Principled explanations in comparative biomusicology”

Michiru Makuuchi (Nat. Rehab. Center, neurolinguistics)

“Brain mechanisms for MERGE”

Yasuo Ihara (U. of Tokyo, evolutionary anthropology)

“Evolution of physical weakness by social selection through choice of collaborative partners”

Cedric Boeckx (ICREA/UB, biolinguistics)

“Brain growth trajectory and language-readiness: Linking hypotheses and new data”

Mini-session 1: “Human evolution, brain evolution and language evolution”

11月12日(日) 9:30 開始

Shiro Ojima (Yokohama Nat. U., experimental linguistics)

“A biolinguistic approach to multicompetence”

Kazumi Taniguchi (Kyoto U., theoretical linguistics)

“A cognitive linguistics view of language acquisition and its implications for language evolution”

Harumi Kobayashi (Tokyo Denki U., developmental psychology)

“Ostensive-inferential communication and language development”

Reiji Suzuki (Nagoya U., artificial life)

“Constructive approaches to evolution of social learning and niche construction”

Takashi Hashimoto (JAIST, science of complexity)

“Adaptability of recursive combination: Evolutionary simulation and some speculations”

Cedric Boeckx (ICREA/UB, biolinguistics)

“Self-domestication and its contribution to modern human cognition”

Kazuo Okanoya (U. of Tokyo, biological psychology)

“Behavioral and neural mechanisms for stimulus chunking in birds and humans”

Mini-session 2: “Language acquisition and language evolution”

Mini-session 3: “Niche construction and language evolution”

Mini-session 4: “Music and language evolution”
